

Administrative Withdrawal Policy

1. Definition

An Administrative Withdrawal (AW) occurs when the university, rather than the student, initiates the withdrawal from one or more courses. Administrative withdrawal may result in a grade of 'W' or 'AW' on the transcript and may affect financial aid.

2. Grounds for Administrative Withdrawal

- Non-payment of tuition or fees after the payment deadline
- Failure to comply with immunization or health requirements
- Failure to meet enrollment prerequisites discovered after registration
- Extended unexcused absence (6 or more consecutive class sessions without contact with instructor or university)
- Safety concerns requiring immediate removal from campus as directed by the Dean of Students
- Academic Suspension or Disciplinary Suspension

3. Notification

Students subject to administrative withdrawal will be notified via official university email at least 5 business days before the withdrawal is processed, except in emergency safety situations. The notice will specify the grounds for withdrawal and the deadline for compliance or appeal.

4. Appeal

Students may appeal an administrative withdrawal within 5 business days of the notice by submitting a written appeal to the Registrar's Office with supporting documentation. Appeals are reviewed by the Administrative Withdrawal Review Committee within 10 business days.
