Student Code of Conduct

1. Introduction

The Student Code of Conduct establishes the standards of behavior expected of all Westbrook University students, both on and off campus. Membership in the Westbrook community carries rights and responsibilities; this Code defines the boundaries of acceptable conduct to ensure a safe, inclusive, and academically rigorous environment.

2. Jurisdiction

This Code applies to all enrolled students, including part-time, online, and graduate students, and governs conduct: (a) on university property; (b) at university-sponsored events; (c) in university-owned online environments; and (d) off campus, when the conduct adversely affects the university community or its members.

3. Prohibited Conduct

- Physical assault, battery, or threats of violence against any person
- Sexual harassment, sexual assault, or non-consensual intimate conduct
- Harassment, bullying, or discriminatory conduct based on protected characteristics
- Theft, vandalism, or unauthorized use of university property
- Academic dishonesty (see Academic Integrity Policy ACAD-INT-001)
- Possession or use of illegal substances on campus
- Unauthorized possession of weapons
- Disruption of university operations, classes, or events
- Providing false information to university officials
- Retaliation against a person who has filed a complaint in good faith

4. Reporting Violations

Any member of the university community may report a suspected Code of Conduct violation by submitting a report to the Office of Student Affairs (studentconduct@westbrook.edu) or through the anonymous EthicsPoint reporting portal. Reports should include the nature of the alleged conduct, the parties involved, and any available evidence.

5. Investigation and Adjudication

Upon receiving a report, the Office of Student Affairs will conduct an initial review within 5 business days to determine if a formal investigation is warranted. Formal investigations are conducted by a trained conduct officer and follow the procedures described in the Disciplinary Procedures Policy (STUD-DIS-002).
